About Lesley-Anne Scorgie:

Lesley-Anne Scorgie's passion for personal finance was strong well before her appearance on the Oprah Winfrey show in 2001. What started all the fuss in the first place was when she took up teaching her high school business class about investing, much to her teacher's surprise. This resulted in the local newspaper writing about her, which in turn triggered interest from the producers of the Oprah Winfrey show.

Since appearing on the show in 2001 called "Ordinary People, Extraordinary Wealth", Lesley-Anne has branched out as a renowned professional speaker, educator and popular columnist and television personality. Her area of expertise has also expanded into career navigation, entrepreneurship and women's workplace equity and diversity issues.

Today she is armed with her new book Well-Heeled: The Smart Girl's Guide to Getting Rich (April 2014) her second bestselling book Rich by Forty: A Young Couple's Guide to Building Net Worth (March 2010) and first bestselling book Rich by Thirty: A Young Adult's Guide To Financial Success (January 2007).
